BEST TIME TO VISIT CORBETT

Corbett National Park, an ecstasy for the wildlife aficionados, remains open all throughout the year for the tourists from Jhirna zone. The center zone (gate) of the National park is Dhikala, which gets from 15 Nov. The Bijrani zone becomes accessible from mid of October. The paths to Bijrani and Dhikala are washed away in the monsoon season and therefore, these zones remain closed in this season.

Winter (October to February): Tourists can take pleasure of the full jungle adventures in the winter. For sighting the tigers and birds, winter is an ideal time.

Summer (March to June): Summer is the best season for those who love to watch animals roaming around in the jungles.

Monsoon (July to September) : This is the best time for the tourists who like the peaceful trekking and walking along with observing diverse flora of the park. Jhirna and some other buffer zones remain open in this season.

15 Nov-15 June is the best time to visit, so that a tourist can view the entire Jim Corbett National Park. The zones are closed at the sunset therefore no night driving is permitted inside Corbett.
